

ROOKIE SPORTSMAN

FOLLOW SPORTSMAN RULE PACKAGE

1. Any driver who has competed and qualified for a big block Modified event is not eligible for this division as this is a division is meant as a place for beginners to get a chance for seat time before moving up.
2. Any driver who has recorded a Sportsman or Small Block Modified win will not be eligible for this division.
3. Rookie status will be until a driver reaches a three (3) win total, that driver will then be required to move up to the Sportsman Division.
4. All safety and technical rules are outlined in the Sportsman section of the Orange County Fair Speedway Rule book.
5. This is a 602 Crate engine class. Follow OCFS Sportsman rule package.
6. Car count will determine the schedule of events for the Rookie Division.
7. No Weekly Points will be kept for this division, the following will apply for line up purposes. If 9 cars or less compete, the division will be given an extended hot lap session and feature line up will be determined by the following:
 - a) Opening night will be a straight draw for feature line up.
 - b) Week two will be handicapped from previous week feature finish.
 - c) Week three will be handicapped off of aggregate finish of first two weeks.
 - d) Week four and so on will be handicapped off previous three weeks
 - e) aggregate finish.
 - f) Feature will be 15 laps (unless otherwise noted)
8. If 10 or more cars compete, the division will be lined up for feature event by the following:
 - a) Opening night, qualifying races consisting of 8 laps will be lined up by pill draw.
 - b) Feature will be lined up by finish in qualifying races.
 - c) Week two will be handicapped from previous feature finish and used to line up qualifying races.
 - d) Feature will be lined up by finish in qualifying races.
 - e) Week three will be handicapped off of aggregate finish of first two weeks.
 - f) Week four and so on will be handicapped off previous three weeks aggregate finish.
 - g) Feature will be 15 laps
 - h) All drivers will be required to posses an Orange County Fair Speedway Pit license prior to competition in week three. Failure to purchase a pit license will result in driver starting behind all eligible drivers in qualifying races.
9. The rookie driver can compete in only the rookie division on the nights they are scheduled.
10. The rookie driver can also compete in the combined division on nights the rookie class are not on the schedule.
11. The car can be used by another driver in the combined class on the night the Rookie Division is on the schedule.